What We've Heard So Far...

As the year draws to a close, the OurLA2040 team would like to thank everyone who has participated and shared their ideas to shape LA's future.

In October, we hosted three Community Conversations on the topics of Open Space and Community + Culture. Meetings took place in West LA, Central Hollywood, and the San Fernando Valley. Please take a moment to read the key takeaways from each of these meetings here.

We would also like to extend our gratitude to the community groups who have hosted their own activities and provided us with their feedback, including the San Pedro Neighborhood Councils and San Pedro Waterfront Arts District at Peck Park Auditorium and From Lot to Spot at the Wilmington Waterfront Park. We look forward to sharing the themes and ideas that came out of these discussions soon. If you're interested in hosting your own community event, please contact us.

About OurLA2040

For the first time in nearly fifty years, the City of Los Angeles is undertaking a comprehensive update to its guiding vision, the General Plan. This historic initiative, OurLA2040, will put into place strong and visionary policies to help create a more prosperous, livable, and sustainable Los Angeles. The Department of City Planning launched the OurLA2040 public engagement program by hosting a series of Community Conversation events as part of the listening and visioning phase of the project.
